Jupiter & Saturn will so create some sort of cosmic marriage.

Jupiter and Saturn

The planets Saturn and Jupiter. Something is going on there. Jupiter and Saturn will so create some sort of cosmic marriage. Jupiter and Saturn are on a collision course.

There is another planet that will soon begin to orbit around Saturn.

All this creates turbulence in the earth's atmosphere and disturbance in the biosphere. This disturbance could be reduced, set aside and eliminated by practicing the science of Yajnya given through the Vedas. Yajnya process resets the energy cycle of the planet in harmony through the agency of fire. Agnihotra is the smallest form of Yajnya.

Satsang has been writing about these planetary disturbances since 1976.

"Planets will disappear and new ones appear without any explanation. All of this has a great impact on our atmosphere and subsequently the mind."

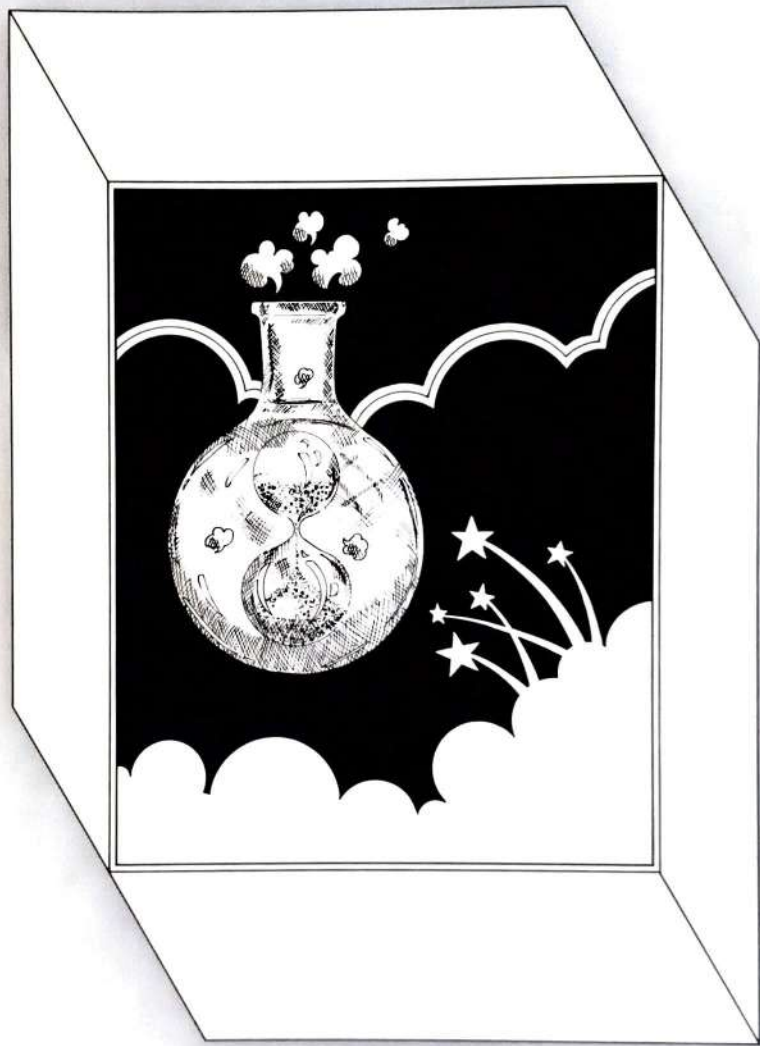

"Positive negative reverse at some point. Planets implode or explode. All solar systems are affected. Agnihotra atmosphere will set things right. We must tell people quickly and if necessary in a blunt way. Take it or leave it but it is yours for the asking." (Satsang Sept. 1, 1977)

"Time has come when space shrinkage gets worse. Planets collide. Whole universe is undergoing change. We must fill all the spheres with Love."

"Space appears to be closing more now and mental disorders will become more prevalent. It will be frightening for some." (Satsang Aug. 4, 1977)

"There is a chance some difficulties may start on other planets which will greatly affect man in next few months." (Satsang May 19, 1977)

"Space shrinkage has already begun. It is the cause of all the disorders, disharmony being experienced now. Planetary malfunctioning. So much danger and disease in the world." (Satsang Feb. 3, 1977)

Let Us Keep Our Faith in Science

The world is in the midst of crime and disaster. Love is the only energy which will reduce the misery. The pollution in the atmosphere has reached gigantic proportions. Practice Agnihotra to purify the atmosphere and bring all nature's cycles back into harmonious functioning once again. The wise men of the West have started speaking the language of Vedic wisdom.

Now a day will come soon when people will be so terribly troubled they will just do anything, act anyway. Yajnya atmosphere will help to calm these people. Same people, if they sit in Yajnya atmosphere simply as a cleansing for one hour each day they become cured. They become peaceful. Same people. It can happen in a few days. It is getting like that now. Agnihotra is the basic Yajnya to create a healing cycle in the atmosphere.

Agnihotra is simple and the cost is minimal. You pay nothing except to purchase one copper pyramid. The supplies to be burnt are very inexpensive and simple to obtain. Nothing is required. This was given and shall always continue to be given.

Actually the essential ingredients of Agnihotra are cowdung, ghee, and some grain. The grain chosen in this case was rice because of its chemical protein structure and its availability.

The wood is used as a means of ignition. If the woods used are of medicinal variety then something is added to the Agnihotra fire. Also for optimum effect the pyramid copper pot is essential.

Pyramid Power gets its name from the importance of the shape of the copper pot to obtain maximum results from the process.

Agnihotra prepares the mind for the dawning of higher knowledge. It enables the mind to be free, to be clear-thinking by scientific methods as given through Vedas. Let us keep our faith in science to get us out of our present state of misery.

Homa Therapy Farming

6 "Famine occurs, panic begins. Turn to Yajnya and you will grow better crops than ever before. Use Agnihotra and Agnihotra ash to subsist, to survive."

The above words are the completion of Homa Therapy Farming Bulletin #4 published by Agnihotra University (Washington, D.C.) in 1978. Having been in India the past two years, it is much easier for me to appreciate what famine means. Living amidst abject poverty brings home lessons that the always stocked shelves of Safeway and Super Giant foodstores don't.

When I received a newspaper clipping dated July 10, 1981 stating "California crops face U.S. ban" my first reaction was that now perhaps people in Western countries can begin to see a scenario unfolding where famine no longer remains a term applicable only to far off developing countries.

How can a country as rich and powerful as USA ever be confronted with famine? Such calamities as the Mediterranean fruit fly do indeed raise the spectre of fruit and vegetable destruction on such a large scale that food shortages become a distinct possibility. And of course it was only recently that the budworm caused nearly unprecedented destruction to crops in Mexico, Texas and California.

Add to this the recently unfolding story of widespread water shortages in USA as well as other forms of abnormal weather conditions and we would perhaps do well not to take tomorrow's dinner for granted.

Destruction as is occurring now was printed as "Revelations" in Satsang perhaps dating as far back as 1976. Some heeded the call and began experiments with Homa Therapy Farming methods and are now reaping unprecedented harvests despite their very neighbors experiencing in some cases total destruction of crops by insects.

If we leave our individual and collective futures in the hands of those with very high vested interest in the status quo, we may live to regret it. As cancer rates soar and causal relationships between this disease and environmental pollution become more prominent, many of us are not even getting the chance to live to regret such unwarranted confidence in chemical fertilizers, pesticides etc.

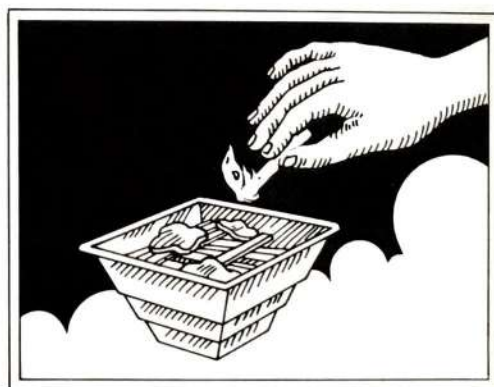

It is up to those with the strength and courage to travel the unbeaten path, to try something even though it seems unusual or beyond our normal ways of perceiving things. It is up to those among us with the humility to state "I don't know" to search for answers even from unaccustomed sources.

There are aspects of Homa Therapy (Farming, Psychotherapy and Ash Medicines) which may seem unusual. But so were the electric light, the telephone and the phonograph when they were invented. "Black Magic" was what they called Edison's phonograph in Paris at the turn of the century.

1981 continues to be the chaotic year that Satsang said it would be three or four years ago. It is almost as if one now should expect things to be confused and difficult. Everyday brings more of that news. It seems the time has now come when the training many of us have been blessed to have must be put into full use. How anyone can survive without Homa is almost beyond comprehension. The effects of disturbed atmosphere now are etched even on the faces of small children.

I am reminded of the response Vasant gave in New Orleans, La. after reading an article in 1978 about poisons being discovered in the water supply of that city. He said "It is our responsibility to find ways to reach people."

On an individual level anyone can start today to perform Agnihotra and see for himself or herself what happens. It doesn't take long at all.

On a collective level it is up to the scientists to investigate this revived, ancient science. The common good demands it.

No longer does mass destruction of flora, fauna and homo sapien seem to be science fiction. It is before all of us to see.

The question now is what to do about it. Many alternatives are proving inadequate, too expensive or politically nonexpedient. None of this is true of Homa Therapy.

As has been said repeatedly, do not believe what you are told or what you read. Believe what you experience. Experience Homa Therapy. Then you will be better able to know what to believe.

Shape of Things to Come

8 Storm activity in South Pacific will cause much destruction to South America.

Turbulence begins in the waters of the Pacific, something like an undersea tunnel. Scientists can not explain what it is. It is a result of robbing the earth of its natural resources and this is the price we must pay.

Insects begin to cause major problems to farmers in Germany and Austria and especially to the vineyards in France.

Elements of nature are changing. Due to pollution on this planet things are being hurled in space towards us. There is only one cure. That cure is Agnihotra to set right the energy cycle of the planet.

Interplanetary manifestation has begun to take place from 15th August.

Strange phenomena begins to occur in the jungles of Africa.

There is another planet that will soon begin to orbit around Saturn.

Jupiter now is beginning to move out of its orbit.

Chemical fertilizers will prove less effective. There will be more government regulation to guard against health hazards. Only way out then is Yajnya. Homa Therapy farming is the answer.

Tetracycline some day will prove deadly.
