Medical Advancement Through Agnihotra

Medical advancement in the curing of alien diseases through Agnihotra.

Nuclear reactions to change in atmosphere prompted by Agnihotra.

Time is short. We give the Divine Message of Love to all. Now we are to spread Agnihotra only. There is no more time for lengthy discussions on this path. Do Agnihotra and all the rest unfolds.

If we tell people to practice Fivefold Path, that is enough. All unfolds with practice of Agnihotra.

Healing

Wysoka, Poland

When Divine wills that one person is to receive healing, that healing can be given through a blade of grass, if it is Divine will. To be an instrument through which healing passes is great blessing. The Divine heals you. Simply remain an open vessel and Divine will always pour GRACE through it.

There are times when the healing instrument will be called on to be quite stern and never with anger. Stern only to pull a person from one point to the next for the sake of that person only.

The Divine makes no errors either in judgment or assignments. Each person to whom the Divine gives command is indeed blessed.

Homa Success on Cacao Plantation Augusto Asencio Bedoya translated by Rory Maher

"YEAR OF INTERNAL TOURIST ACTIVITY"

CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE ADEX CACAO PROGRAM

Tingo Maria

Mr. Engineer:

It is with great pleasure that I write to you as an agricultural producer of cacao; I feel that I must share my success stories about the application of Homa Therapy within my cacao plantation with many other farmers from the Alto Huallaga area.

Five months ago, through the Special Alto Huallaga Project of Tingo Maria, I had the opportunity to acquaint myself with and begin to work with this type of organic farming that is Homa Therapy, for which I feel most grateful. I am also grateful to the Engineer Carlos Ruiz, who, as a good friend, advised me to continue working with Homa Therapy and to stop using agrochemicals. I have over ten hectares of cacao, more than twenty years old, which I had to abandon because the plants refused to produce.

They produced quantities of flowers but the fruit would not form and they would fall to the ground. If they managed to grow, in 80% of the cases, while they were still small, they ended up being attacked by the fungus "Monilla", thus giving a low yield. On the advice of yourselves, the engineers of ADEX, I received instructions on how to prune and clean the plantation. The ADEX engineer, Carlos Ruiz, being a specialist in the production of cacao, would tell me to count all the diseased fruit and leave them at the foot of each cacao tree. In the end this count continued for a long time and definitely exhausted me, because it didn't solve the Monilla problem at all, not even if I buried them, and each time the harvests became smaller.

There were also old cacao trees that yielded nothing, so I decided to plant a new cacao tree alongside them, that is to say, to replace the old plantation with a new one. These seedlings were already a year old but they remained the same in size as when they were planted, with yellow leaves, as if they had fungus.

I also had cacao seedlings of the CCN51 grafted variety, but after seven months they showed little development and they were all weak. The banana plantation that gave them shade was in a similar condition.

This is what happened when I began to work with Homa Therapy:

--After eighteen days the leaves that were developing grew very green and shiny, and each time the foliage became more abundant, due solely to the atmosphere created by the Homa Therapy fires.

--Also many flowers developed and the fruit began to form in bunches. This all accelerated when I applied Agnihotra ash solution with my fumigator. The produce is healthy and abundant.

--The fruit became shiny, increasing in size and flavour.

--Since I began applying Homa Therapy, production in my cacao plantation has not declined. Since the month of May to the present day it has remained constant, and even though it is out of season it continues to produce and flower.

--I have observed that when Agnihotra ash solution is applied, the yield is greater.

--The cacao plants that hadn't been producing and which had a seedling next to them began to produce permanent flowers and fruit. Inclusively, the seedlings grew 70 centimeters more with very green and shiny leaves, all because of Homa Therapy.

--The young CCN51 cacao plants began to produce totally healthy fruit with thick foliage and flowers, which surprised the engineer Carlos Ruiz (expert in cacao) of ADEX and the journalist from Television America of Tingo Maria. They were both surprised because with agrochemicals and much weeding, they begin to produce after a year and a half and even this is quick, because they often take two years to produce fruit which inclusively is diseased with "Monilla".

--I have to say that through Homa Therapy the healthy fruit from each plant developed within an environment that was totally contaminated with "Monilla" because of the presence of the infected fruit that was left in the cacao plantation. In this contaminated environment it was observed that because of Homa Therapy, the cacao plant was too strong. It is truly amazing. This shows the strength and vigor of the cacao plants that developed very shiny and healthy fruit via the effects of Homa Therapy.

--The more frequently the Agnihotra ash solution was applied, the more the cacao plant became heavy with fruit. Therefore, production increased, and this is a wonderful achievement for us.

--With the plantain trees, it was observed that the "Isla" variety were ready for harvest after five and a half months, whereas with agrochemicals they are ready after eight months.

To all you cacao engineers who can reach a greater number of cacao producers, I would ask you to inform them about the favourable results of my work with Homa Therapy. I am prepared to teach those farmers how to apply Homa Therapy and in the general management of cacao. In this way we would avoid many farmers destroying hundreds of hectares of cacao because they believe that there exists no solution against the "Monilla" fungus.

Homa Therapy is the only solution and it is cheap.

Sincerely,

Augusto Asencio Bedoya

Observations of Plants in Homa Atmosphere

Alejandra Mendez - Merida, Venezuela

In the backyard of my house in Merida, Venezuela we have a little land. At this time a part of the land is being organized for an orchard. José, my partner, has made a stone wall to surround the orchard, so the animals cannot enter. Inside this space there is a compost pile which has been made for the vegetable waste. We have begun to organize many things; however, we are just starting and I want to share with all of you the different experiences that I have been able to observe in this small land.

A male papaya tree, normally non-productive, bearing full-grown papayas in Homa atmosphere.

In that garden, many papaya plants have been born. The interesting thing is that we have not planted any of them; we simply throw the seeds out the window of the house. The problem was that we threw so many seeds that around seventeen papaya trees were born. Many of these papayas had to be retired, because they were occupying a lot of space of the garden. An agricultural technician came to take out all the papaya males and to leave some of the females; however, without realizing it, he left a male tree. This tree differs of the female because the fruit is not born from the stem, but of some strands. This tree doesn't usually give fruits and when he gives them they fall, small and green. This means they don't achieve their normal growth. Well, the papaya tree we have in the yard happened this way at the beginning, giving very small papayas and then they fell. We even thought of removing the tree, but we didn't do it because my brother saw that every day a beautiful hummingbird would come (and still comes) and he liked a lot to see that bird. We decided to leave the tree and after a short time we realized that the fruits of the papaya were growing and now we have a male tree full with papayas. The same agricultural technician who left this tree unintentionally told me that that male tree doesn't normally give good fruits because they fall before its normal development.

3 ½ months ago we transplanted a fruit tree called Chinese meddler. This tree was at first planted in the part that is dedicated to the orchard, so we had to transplant it; the problem was that the tree had grown about 70 centimeters long and the transplant was going to be more complicated. Nevertheless, José and I took out the tree with much care and we planted it in another area. The day that we made the transplant, in the afternoon, we did Agnihotra under the tree and in a very short time new leaves were coming out. When we saw that this was happening we knew that the tree was establishing in the right direction. What most impressed us was the speed of its growth. The tree already measures approximately 1.50 meters.

Another transplant that we made was an ornamental plant of my mother's. That plant was taken out unintentionally by José because he thought it was a weed. When he realized that it was my Mom's favorite plant, we transplanted it in another part of the garden and we gave it some Tryambakam ash. That ash was from a fire of fourteen hours that we did on full moon. However, as the days passed, all the leaves started to dry and my Mom was very mad at us, because she thought that her plant had died. Then one day we observed that some leaves had been born on the plant. I could not believe it. It really seemed that the plant was dead. Imagine all the withered, dry, brown leaves and then in the stem you could see some small green colored leaves. What a joy it was to see those new leaves, and the most beautiful thing of everything is that recently the plant gave us one of the most beautiful flowers.

When my sister, Maria Cecilia, was working with Homa Therapy in a plantain field in Sur del Lago, Venezuela, she brought us a hijuelo (a son) of the plantain. It is important to know that the plantains grow in hot areas and I live in a cold area that is 1,700 meters above sea level. The curious thing is that when we harvested the plantains it was not a full bunch, but the plantains it had were big. Also, the plant mother gave us hijuelos. A friend of mine commented that her father had tried to plant a plantain, but it did not give plantains because of the altitude and here at the house we had plantains!

In the neighborhood where I live there are many banana plants and we always have plenty of bananas. The man who works here said that since we have been in this residence he had never seen such large crops of bananas and the best thing is that they are very sweet and tasty. The green bananas, the ones that are not ripe, are soft and delicious when you boil them.

All the time the birds visit us more and more at the house and every time we see more exotic and more beautiful species. The squirrels are also coming closer to the house and on occasion the birds enter the house.

We planted a passion fruit plant at least two months ago. When I planted it I made a very deep hole and put Agnihotra ash inside the hole where the seeds were. At the beginning people told me that probably the plant was not going to grow because of the depth at which I had placed the seeds. Nevertheless, in a short time the first buds came out and now our plant has grown so much that we had to put some wires to support it. The color of the leaves is so brilliant that you notice immediately the good shape the plant is in.

In front of the entrance of the house we have a guava tree which was born without anybody planting it. Two mango trees did the same.

The interesting part of all these experiences is that we have not had control or an organized order of the things we have planted, but the results have been wonderful. I can't imagine how it will be when we have the whole orchard planted and organized. Also, as Vasant says, it is important that a technician makes observations of what goes on in the garden because we are in the era of the science. The observations and reports on the things that happen in this small orchard thanks to Homa Therapy are necessary so that agronomers and everyone can see that you can cultivate perfectly without the use of any agricultural chemicals and have a wonderful crop. Agnihotra is not always done in this house because I am in classes, so sometimes I have to do Agnihotra in another place; still, we got these results.

Amazing Grace Maria Mamud

In April, 2000 I was in Uruguay, my country of origin, in which I visited different cities. First I passed by Montevideo, the capitol, and just a few kilometers away I passed by Canelones, a very pretty place called El Pinar. There I stayed with the Lincoln family as well as Raquel Lopez. She had learned about Agnihotra two years ago. In her garden she has huge plants of hydrangea with big beautiful flowers. She mentioned that the only reason they are so big and beautiful is because she puts Agnihotra ash on them. The incredible thing is that her garden is located under pine trees, which usually make the soil very acidic and nothing grows, but not in this case. She performs Agnihotra, then puts Agnihotra ash on her plants. Also, she added that in the winter her garden is the only one without frost. She has medicinal herbs year round!

Then I visited a place called Rincòn de la Bolsa in the Department of San Jose. There they have a university of music called Artesofia, which is also a Homa farm with a resonance point activated. They have around three hundred fruit trees in forty hectares, a place of silence in a building that is dedicated exclusively to women, a house and school for the children, milk cows, and they make their own honey. Their agriculture is based upon the Homa fires. You can feel an atmosphere filled with peace and harmony. They have ten papaya trees, which don't normally grow in Uruguay; nevertheless, they all have wonderful fruits. The residents of the farm are very simple and generous people, willing to help others at any moment. They live in a community run by a man from Spain, Manuel Serrano. He and his wife are very devoted to Shree Vasant and all of his teachings. They are very open-minded when it comes to practicing Fivefold Path. Not only Uruguayans live at this farm; there are people from Spain, Chile and Colombia.

From there I went to the center of the country to the Department of Durazno to Sarandí del Yi. There I met a lady who doesn't perform Agnihotra but had put Agnihotra ash only on two of her hibiscus because she had run out of ash to put it on the third. The hibiscus that didn't receive any ash grew to be a dwarf. The other two grew tall and look beautiful.

My trip ended in Paysandú, the city where I was born. There I met a woman who, for four months in the upper part of her foot close to the toes, had a wound infected with staphylococcus dorado. The pain was unbearable because the infection went all the way to the bone. All the treatments she tried didn't work. We applied ghee with Agnihotra ash. The wound started to close and after five days the doctor told her that the staphylococcus dorado was completely gone and the wound was fifty percent closed. After fifteen days she was able to wear shoes on her wounded foot. Also, she has two granddaughters who live with her and perform Agnihotra and do fifteen minutes of Om Tryambakam. Their behavior has changed dramatically. The granddaughters treated each other with more love and they would help with the house chores even when they weren't asked to.

Another lady, Marina Caraccio de Maya, performs Agnihotra but not on a daily basis. She teaches yoga and gymnastics and noticed that every time she doesn't perform Agnihotra she is unable to complete her schedule of classes because of her pregnancy. On the other hand, when she does the Agnihotra she can give classes all day long without fatigue.

Josefa Maza de Capelli is a lady who had surgery for breast cancer. For four months her arm had been swollen and had a red coloration like erysipelas and was warm. We put Agnihotra ash with ghee on the wound and after an hour the erysipelas was completely gone and it wasn't warm anymore. She learned how to perform Agnihotra and she feels much better now.

Additionally, my aunt, Luz Nuñez de Maya, is 72 years old and has been doing the Agnihotra for two years and feels great because of it. In result of this, she teaches Agnihotra to everyone. She has had incredible results with the fires. For example, my uncle was very antisocial, bad-tempered, and wouldn't participate in any social event. Now, he is a changed man! He is very friendly and attends all social events.

Everywhere I went, I saw the Grace of SHREE GAJANAN. Thank you Holy Father for giving us the opportunity to serve.

Agnihotra in Malaysia Ed.

Scenes from the "Divine Expedition" held at the Batu Caves in Selangor, Malaysia. From left: Dr. Paramasivam, director of the event; the Batu Caves; an information center; Dr. Shreekant Rajimwale of the Institute for Studies in Vedic Sciences giving a talk on Agnihotra;

It was a wonderful opportunity to participate in the "Divine Expedition" on June 3rd and 4th, 2000, at the famous Batu Caves in Selangor, Malaysia. The program, arranged by Aboorvass (M) Sdn., Bhd. included performance of a huge Yajnya, and the launching of Dr. G. Paramasivam's Agnihotra book in Tamil language. Dr. Paramasivam is the Managing Director of Aboorvass. The entire program, an enormous undertaking, was executed under his direction.

The event gave thousands of people the opportunity to experience and learn more about Agnihotra and Homa Therapy. For weeks in advance, Dr. Paramasivam had been announcing the event on radio programs.

On Saturday morning the program began with performance of Agnihotra by 108 persons. Agnihotra materials were carefully set out for the rows of participants. At exact sunrise, the Agnihotra mantra was chanted over the loudspeakers, and the participants chanted in unison. It was an amazing sight to see the rows of blazing pyramids.

A number of talks were scheduled during the two-day event, including a presentation by Dr. Shreekant Rajimwale from the Institute for Studies in Vedic Sciences in Akkalkot, India. Highlights of his talk included many aspects of the healing results of Agnihotra as documented by the Institute.

I had the privilege of speaking about the amazing results achieved using Homa Therapy to heal plant diseases on farms in South America and Agnihotra ash medicines as developed by Monika Koch in Germany.

Throughout the event, information was available to attendees on Agnihotra and Homa Therapy. A number of Agnihotra teachers, including Dr. Rajimwale, Dr. Prakash Parkhe, Mr. Venkatesan, and Mr. Kanvilkar, all from India, as well as my husband Richard and myself, were available for informal discussions and question-and-answer sessions. Members of Kurup Agni, a company which plans international distribution of Agnihotra materials, greatly assisted us in displaying and making available photographs, articles and other information on Agnihotra.

Our thanks to Dr. Paramasivam, his family and colleagues, for their most gracious hospitality and their zealous efforts in spreading Agnihotra in Malaysia.

The Science of Homa Therapy Ed.

Excerpts from speech given at the Divine Expedition, Malaysia.

We are here to speak today about Homa Therapy as it is being used to eradicate plant diseases without the use of harmful chemicals, and work being done in Germany using Agnihotra ash medicines. Thousands of farmers in South America have saved their farms from the ravages of disease by using Agnihotra and several related healing fires. They have achieved maximum yield and top quality produce from their harvests. People from all over the world have experienced amazing cures from a wide range of ailments using preparations made from Agnihotra ash. But first we would like to explain what we mean by HOMA THERAPY.

Homa is a Sanskrit word meaning Yajnya or Havan. Yajnya is the technical term from the Vedic science of bioenergy. It means the process of removing the toxic conditions of the atmosphere through the agency of fire. You heal the atmosphere and the healed atmosphere heals you. This is the main idea in Homa Therapy. Yajnya replenishes the nutrients that pollution robs from our environment.

Homa Therapy is totally a revealed science. It is as old as creation. Homa Therapy comes from Vedas, the most ancient body of knowledge known to man, from Ayurveda. At one time, this Vedic knowledge existed all over the planet, but was lost in course of time. It is being revived now to help people come out of the polluted conditions in which we find ourselves today.

Performance of Agnihotra on a regular daily basis establishes the healing energies necessary for a healthy environment. The timing of exact sunrise and sunset is an indispensable part of Agnihotra. It was revealed that, "At sunrise, the many fires, electricities, ethers, and more subtle energies emanating from the sun extend all the way to the earth and produce a flood effect at those coordinates where the sun is said to rise. It is awesome. The flood enlivens and purifies everything in its path, destroying what is impure in its wake. This torrent of life-sustaining energies causes all life to rejoice. At sunrise that music can be heard. The morning Agnihotra mantra is the essence of that music. It is quintessential sound of that flood. At sunset, the flood recedes."

The fire is prepared from dung from the male or female progeny of the cow. Pure ghee from cow's milk is to be used, not buffalo milk.

The pyramid used for Agnihotra must be of the exact size, with three steps. It may be made of either copper or gold. There is very little difference between using copper or gold in Agnihotra; however, there is a big price difference, so we use copper. Some Eastern European scientists back in the Communist days worked for several years trying to find out how this energy comes from the Agnihotra pyramid. They tried many different sizes of pyramids, but finally they said that this size which we use is the best one.

The ancient science of Vedic medicine states that Agnihotra atmosphere and Agnihotra ash are medicinal. Monika Koch, a pharmacist in Germany, has worked for some years on how to use Agnihotra ash. She has done some research on several of these Agnihotra ash medicines. People all over the world have used these medicines successfully to treat a wide range of ailments. They have been most widely used in Chile and Poland.

These Agnihotra ash medicines are not sold. People in various countries use them as folk medicine. People from all over the world have submitted testimonies to our newsletter, Satsang, stating the cures they have experienced using Agnihotra ash preparations—for allergies, asthma, skin diseases, chronic colds, fever, arthritis, insomnia, stomach problems, heart problems and more.

Agriculture is another area which is receiving great benefit from Agnihotra and Homa Therapy. Dr. Tung Ming Lai of Denver, Colorado did some research by adding Agnihotra ash to various types of soil. He found that the amount of water-soluble phosphates increased significantly with the addition of Agnihotra ash as opposed to non-Agnihotra ash.

For the last three years, an international team of volunteers under the guidance of Vasant Paranipe has been working in South America, using Homa Therapy to drive out plant diseases which even the Department of Agriculture could not eradicate. The Peruvian government made observations and documented the results on hundreds of farms with a wide variety of crops, including coffee, mango, banana, plantain, cacao, papaya, citrus, avocado, tea, rice, corn, sesame, soy and many more. The work started at farms on which all conventional methods of controlling disease had failed: chemical control, biological control, cultural control, legal control—nothing worked. The following are excerpts from the reports issued by the Peruvian government and testimony from the farmers themselves. They show results from a variety of crops. We have copies of the official reports from the Department of the Presidency and mayoral affidavits, if afterwards anyone would like to see them:

"After two months of applying HOMA THERAPY, the production of plantains and bananas doubled. The bunches were bigger. The fruit were wider and of greater weight; the production cycle is shortened due to the effect of HOMA THERAPY."

"The cocoa plantation was in a situation of emergency concerning the health of plants. Three months after having started the application of HOMA THERAPY, the presence of Moniliasis, witches broom, phytophthora, and attack from insects does not exist. The moss dried up in spite of the rainy season. The fact that the moss and other parasitic plants dried out is due to the application of HOMA THERAPY. ...At the same time, the production of healthy fruits increased in number and quality, obtaining greater and better cocoa beans/cocoa. Badly developed plants, plants whose trunk was left with no branches, branches with old leaves, plants which could barely breathe or carry out the photosynthesis process are producing fruits, even though this is not harvest time."

"Orange tree with problems of antraerosis, moss and ants had a TOTAL RECUPERATION after applying HOMA THERAPY. Each seven days new leaves began to sprout. Thus the plants were REJUVENATED. The same happened with the lemon and cherry trees, which had never produced fruit. Now they are in full production. Orange trees and other citrus fruit that were at the height of production when HOMA THERAPY was applied developed more fruits. These were very sweet and juicy and with better fragrance and color. Even the seeds developed to be much bigger and more round and white than normal. After finishing their production in the normal season, the oranges began to bloom out of season, insuring a permanent fructification through the effect of HOMA THERAPY."

"To my astonishment and that of many people, this area which was smaller than one hectare, castillian beans yielded more than 2,500 kilos, almost three times more than the quantity calculated. "

"Before Homa Therapy, all new and old coconut trees in this farm were attacked by ants and each plant produced a maximum of five coconuts. With Homa Therapy, the plants became clean and totally healthy. Each plant produced from twenty to twenty-five coconuts."

Homa Therapy is very easy to do. If some people here would like to learn it and offer it as a free service, we would suggest the following: First, ask the Department of Agriculture to find a highly diseased area in which all methods of removing plant disease have failed. We will have volunteers from the West go to that farm to show how to eradicate disease. Scientific observations such as soil and water analysis will have to be made by a university or some other qualified authority.

According to ancient science, using Homa fires in the prescribed way, the plants can extract nutrition from about twelve kilometers in space, and the effect goes back to the pyramid. After Agnihotra, at the exact time, there is an aura field around each plant, each tree, every blade of grass—thousands of energy fields. The first effect of Agnihotra goes up about twelve kilometers and the effect rebounds back down to the pyramid. When this energy comes back, it is absorbed by these aura energy fields for as long as the Agnihotra flame burns. We see the result in the form of healthy plants, maximum yield, and produce of superior size, taste and texture.

To achieve these astounding results, we use a special configuration of ten copper pyramids for eighty hectares, but if the area is highly diseased, we prefer forty hectares. This requires a one-time investment of the cost of ten pyramids, plus the cost of the ghee used for Homa. It is this configuration of Homa fires which will drive away disease and gives nutrition to plant life. According to ancient science, one arranges four pyramids in the center of the property—north, south, east and west, with 350 meters' radius. Everything in the area will be purified. To get the exact timing of sunrise and sunset, we go with a global positioning system to that farm. In one and a half minutes we are connected to four American satellites. Then we get the exact longitude and latitude of the farm up to three decimal points. We then use software from Germany which is based on one particular definition of sunrise and sunset to compute the timings. There are many definitions of sunrise and sunset, but we use the one suited for Agnihotra. As the Earth rotates, healing energy goes on around the ten pyramids.

This Homa farming is the way out of using harmful chemicals. In many parts of the world there is great demand for organically grown produce. People are willing to pay one and a half times the usual price for organically grown food. Homa Farming has a great potential for improving the economy of many agricultural areas.

Heal the atmosphere and the healed atmosphere heals you. Let us all heal the atmosphere with Agnihotra.

Letters to Satsang

I would like to share the following beautiful and true story.

For approximately the past fifteen years Fivefold Path work has been organized and disseminated in Australia mainly by Frits and Lee and Bruce and myself. I would say that over the years a power struggle developed and that unceasing judgement, criticism, projection, resentment, blame and an unforgiving attitude contributed to seemingly irreconcilable differences between us, and an impasse was reached which allowed no easy solution. We could all no doubt justify our separative stance, our "rightness" and the other person's "wrongness". It was incongruous to ourselves and others that we were teaching a way of becoming more loving but we were not living it.

In recent times we have all suffered circumstances that have worn away some of the ego, allowing some light to dawn and some love to warm the cold hearts and humility to soften the resentment. Understanding and compassion came gradually to reveal that the wretched other was none other than oneself whom Shree placed close so that we could learn to love the unlovable parts of ourselves.

I have to say that through the intimate connection with Frits and Lee, working side by side doing this precious work of Shree's, that the shadow, the deepest darkest side of myself has been exposed, played out and finally redeemed by acknowledging it and seeing its destructive force in causing suffering and pain to my brother and sister.

A new respect and regard and unconditional sweet love for one another has emerged from the ashes, because willingly we were prepared to see what we were doing to ourselves and to one another. All this happened only by Shree's Grace and because we were no longer prepared to experience separation, pain and judgement, and because we wanted to be an example of the Love that He wants us to be. It is the reason for doing Fivefold Path work, to learn to Love. And we can start with the ones near us in our country that we find difficult to love. They are our teachers.

Anne Godfrey

From Vasant's Correspondence

You are just being used as an instrument to help others. So if there is a "conductor" of the orchestra, why do you concern yourself with what is played next? Even in great orchestras changes are made. The orchestra members must be aware and listen and watch for their commands. Then they only have to take care of their instruments and keep them exactly attuned and ready. Then, no matter what composition is called for, they are ready, instrument in hand, to create harmony all together.
